

banality

Triangulating between R. Mutt's "Fountain" (designated as art), and "Ceci n'est pas une pipe" (produced as art), we may also discern photo Projects.

Photographs of banality erase subjects' dimension and character, blancmanges to this morally dubious end.

Mea culpa.

With this in mind, banality is a curated selection from the daily "tutorials" of the Academy for Bad Photographs Online University. AFBP pictures limn street photography, vernacular architecture and landscapes, in a rudimentary ad hoc sequence that doesn't quite add up to a narrative, rather there's an intention of temporal and spatial dislocation.
